ABOUT JOHANNES

Johannes is a skilled and reliable associate who has experience at all levels of the Singapore Courts. His main practice areas are white-collar crime, investigations, and constitutional and administrative law. Besides commercial crimes under the Prevention of Corruption Act, the Securities and Futures Act, and the Penal Code, he also regularly acts for clients accused of murder, drug trafficking, and sexual crimes.

He has been a key player in many notable successes before the Court of Appeal, including high-profile acquittals and landmark judgments in novel or publicly important areas of the law.

Johannes read law at University College London (UCL) where he won the inaugural inter-university Human Rights Moot 2014. His interest in moral and legal philosophy then led him to postgraduate studies at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE), where he topped the cohort in several subjects and graduated with a Master of Science (Distinction) in political theory.

Before he had clients to act for, Johannes acted for theatre audiences. His professional theatre credits include Family Outing (WILD RICE, Man Singapore Theatre Festival) and he has studied classical piano and violin with the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, and musical theatre with the London College of Music.

Each morning he wakes up torn between a desire to improve the world and a desire to enjoy it, which makes it hard to plan the day.

Significant Criminal & Public Law Litigation:

- Public Prosecutor v Wee Teong Boo and other appeal and another matter [2020] SGCA 56: Successfully defended and obtained the acquittal of a doctor wrongfully accused of rape.
- Ilechukwu Uchechukwu Chukwudi v Public Prosecutor [2020] SGCA 90: Successfully defended and obtained the acquittal of a Nigerian man wrongfully accused of trafficking a capital quantity of drugs into Singapore. This was the first time in Singapore's history where the Court of Appeal agreed to re-open an already concluded criminal appeal and reverse a previous conviction in order to correct a miscarriage of justice.
- Public Prosecutor v Hamidah Binte Awang and another [2019] SGHC 161: Acted for the accused person in remitted evidential proceedings before the High Court, pursuant to the Court of Appeal's seminal judgment in Ilechukwu Uchechukwu Chukwudi v Public Prosecutor [2017] SGCA 44. After 5 days of hearings involving expert evidence from 4 eminent psychiatrists, we successfully persuaded the High Court that the client suffered from post-traumatic stress disorder prior to the arrest in Singapore in 2011, and that he suffered from post-traumatic stress symptoms after his arrest which affected the integrity of his statements to the Central Narcotics Bureau.
- Nagaenthran a/l K Dharmalingam v Public Prosecutor and another appeal [2019] SGCA 37: Acted for an accused person who was convicted of a capital drug trafficking offence in judicial review proceedings against the decision of the Public Prosecutor not to issue a certificate of substantive assistance under section 33B(2)(b) of the Misuse of Drugs Act (the "MDA"). The Government argued that section 33B(4) of the MDA was an ouster clause that limited the full scope of judicial review over the exercise of the Public Prosecutor's discretionary power. On appeal, we successfully persuaded the Court of Appeal that section 33B(4) of the MDA did not have the effect of ousting the court's powers of judicial review on grounds other than bad faith, malice, or unconstitutionality. We also acted for the client in an appeal against his death sentence, resulting to the Court of Appeal's seminal judgment which clarified the proper interpretation of the phrase "abnormality of mind" under section 33B(3)(b) of the MDA.
- Wham Kwok Han Jolovan v Public Prosecutor [2020] SGCA 111: Acted for a socio-political activist in a criminal reference following his conviction for organising and holding a public assembly without a permit under the Public Order Act (the "POA"). The question of law of public interest posed to the Court of Appeal was — is section 16(1)(a) of the Public Order Act a constitutionally valid derogation from Article 14(1) of the Constitution? In its seminal judgment, the Court of Appeal set out a three-step test for determining whether a law impermissibly derogates from Article 14 of the Constitution.
- Ong Ming Johnson v Attorney-General and other matters [2020] SGHC 63: Acted for the plaintiff in a challenge against the constitutionality of section 377A of the Penal Code, which criminalises consensual sexual conduct between adult men in private. The appeal to the Court of Appeal is on-going.
- Ainon Binte Mohamed Ali v Public Prosecutor (HC/MA 9244/2019/01): Acted for a tuition teacher convicted of hurting a student in a successful appeal against her original sentence of 4 weeks' imprisonment. On the basis of strong medical evidence indicating that she suffered from major depressive disorder which contributed to her offending, we persuaded the High Court to subject her instead to a Mandatory Treatment Order of 36 months.

- Public Prosecutor v Willie Tan (SC-911157-2019): Acted for an accused person who was charged with and admitted to drug consumption, and successfully obtained a discharge not amounting to an acquittal.

Significant Litigation Matters:

- Ramesh s/o Krishnan v AXA Life Insurance Singapore Pte Ltd (CA/CA 38/2018): Assisted in acting for a senior financial services director in a negligence claim against his former employer and obtained S$3.2 million in damages. This was a landmark tort case, in which the Singapore Court of Appeal held for the first time that employers owe employees a duty of care when preparing performance reviews to ensure that any facts stated were true and any opinions expressed were supported by true facts.
- Rohini d/o Balasubramaniam v HSR International Realtors Pte Ltd [2018] SGCA 37: Assisted in defending a real estate agency against a S$830,000 claim brought by the plaintiff, who argued that the agency should be held vicariously liable for the fraudulent acts of a rogue agent, with substantial success.
- UFN v UFM and another matter [2019] SGCA 54: Acted for the respondent in the first case in Singapore for financial relief consequent upon a foreign divorce under Chapter 4A of the Women's Charter. Successfully obtained judgment on novel questions of matrimonial law of public interest including: (a) the extent to which a foreign divorcee's decision not to exhaust remedies in a foreign matrimonial jurisdiction precludes an application for financial relief in Singapore under Chapter 4A of the Women's Charter; and (b) the applicability of the forums conveniens doctrine to the Singapore courts' exercise of discretion to allow financial relief.
- Nguyen Thi Anh Ngoc @ Vivian v Vu Thi Mui (DC/DC 61/2018): Acted for the defendant and successfully fended off the plaintiff's defamation claim.
